WAIVER AND INDEMNIFICATION

I understand that producers see many projects every year, and that it may be possible that they may already be working on or may have come across (or may yet come across) a project with similarities to mine. In exchange for the opportunity of meeting and pitching my work to ten viable, experienced producers, I agree that I will not be entitled to any compensation or credit because of the use by any producer taking part in this event of any material similar to my own. I understand that producers would refuse to evaluate my material in the absence of my waiver of compensation or credit. I acknowledge that no fiduciary or confidential relationship now exists between any producer taking part in the event and me, and I further acknowledge that no such relationships are established between any producer taking part in the event solely by reason of taking part in the event. I will under no circumstances bring legal proceedings against Theater Resources Unlimited or the participating producers resulting from any communications made in connection with the event.
